OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON D. C., April 27, 1875.

One of the most curious sights to witness is a colored baptism. These people are very devout in their way, and have their religious and united benefit Societies without number. It was announced from the pulpit of one of the colored Baptist churches a week in advance, that candidates for the rite would meet on the "river shore," near the Long Bridge, crossing the Potomac, and there be baptized. This announcement caused the less religious members to scratch their heads, and think to themselves that there would be a chance to make an odd penny, and when the services were over (the question was discussed. It was a clear fact that there would be a large number of witnesses in attendance, and pies and cakes would not be amiss.

As day dawned last Sunday hundreds of persons could be seen on their way to the Potomac river, and by sunrise a multitude of people were on the shore, the Long Bridge, and the bluffs in the vicinity. To the class known as don't cares, it reminded them of a camp meeting or a country race. Here and there could be seen, dotting the river banks, beech booths on which were offered lunches for sale, while on the side of the street were hundreds of carriages packed. About 7 o'clock the words of the hymn "Jesus lover of my soul," were heard, when all became still, and shortly afterwards the pastor appeared, followed by his disciples—thirty-eight women and seventeen men. The procession moved on with measured tread the leader being attired in a black suit of clothes, with high boots reaching up to his thighs. The candidates were dressed in long black gowns, with white caps. When the procession reached the river bank a halt was made, and the candidates rapped themselves against the shore, still singing, the vast crowd assembled joining in. This hymn was sung over and over again while the minister was making arrangements for the ceremony. He went out into the river about one hundred yards, with his assistant, and planted a stick to designate the spot where the dipping was to take place. After apparently satisfying himself that all was right, he came back to the shore, and started the hymn "I'm glad salvation's free," all joining in the chorus after getting them all fairly interested, he took one of the females, and started for the place of dipping. On reaching the stake, the minister and his assistant placed their hands on the sister's shoulder and back, and in a moment her head was under the water. These on the shore held their breath for a few moments, and the quiet was only disturbed by this baptized woman exclaiming "Glory to God." But the words had hardly been uttered before she was dipped again. She bore it well, as she did a third dip, and came up bravely every time, repeating the shout "Glory to God." The last dip being given, she returned to the shore, when she joined the others in singing.

One after the other were thus led to the stake until the work was done, after which those baptized left the scene and wended their way toward their homes. A railroad disaster occurred last evening on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad, on the outskirts of our city, causing much damage to the train and injuring some twenty people. It occurred near the site of an accident which happened some few months ago. Much feeling is manifested because of the cruel carelessness of the employees of the road, and the fact that the road consists of but one track between this city and Baltimore.

President Grant has not formally accepted the resignation of Atty. Gen'l. Williams, up to today, the rumors to the contrary, notwithstanding, but the impression is that his successor has been decided upon. Ex-Senator Carpenter and Secretary of the Treasury Bristow are mentioned in connection with the place.

VINCENT.
A memorial theatre in honor of Shakespeare is proposed in his native town of Stratford-on-Avon. The amount required is $25,000 and already $15,000 has been raised. Two acres of ground have been presented for the site, and it is thought that the work can be begun within a year. It is intended, ultimately, if the funds will allow, to establish a dramatic training school and college in connection with the theatre.

Fifty-seven years ago on Saturday last, Ebenezer Everett of Newversin, Ulster county, N. Y., was left a widower at the age of 15 years, having been married three months. That short experience in married life sufficed him until the fifty-seventh anniversary of the death of his wife, when he was again married at the age of 72 to Miss Elizabeth Decker of Newversin, aged 15, just the age that Ebenezer was when his first wife died.

Charles Smith, a boy aged sixteen years, died at Port Jervis recently from the effect of coal gas. He was lighting a fire, when the gas burst out of the stove in his face. He inhaled so much of the gas as to be overcome by it, and survived but two days.

The Order of St. Mary's, a Roman Catholic sisterhood, have purchased land at Totowa, a suburb of Paterson, upon which to erect a seminary for the accommodation of 700 young ladies.

Is Your Life Worth 10 CENTS?—Sickness prevails everywhere, and everybody complains of some disease during their life. When sick the object is to get well; now we say plainly that no person in this world that is suffering with Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and its effects, such as Indigestion, Constipation, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Heart-burn, flatulence of the Heart, Deranged System, Blisters, &c., can take LOCKER'S ACETIC PILLS without getting rid of them. If you doubt this, go to R. D. Davis, Druggist, and get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Regular size 25 cents. Two doses will relieve you.

New Jersey Items.

LONG BRANCH.—As usual, after the winter there is a great complaint at the condition of the bluff at Long Branch, more or less of it caving in, and threatening finally to carry away portions of Ocean avenue. The only place where the ocean has not made an inroad at all is immediately in front of the West-End. A stout bulkhead was built last year, while late in the Fall a jetty, such as was built at Sandy Hook and along the beach between Seabright and the Highlands, extending out some twenty-five or thirty yards, was added. The immediate effect has been that the bluff remains just as it was last season, while the beach has increased.

RIDING THROUGH FLAMES.—Mr. C. B. Smith of Trenton was driving through the pine woods in Monmouth county on Friday last, when he discovered that the woods ahead of him were on fire. Thinking it possible to drive through the flames, he whipped his team, and soon found himself completely surrounded by blaze and almost stifled with smoke. To advance was impossible, and to retreat nearly as, as the terrified horses refused to move. After much difficulty he succeeded in starting back, but such great headway had the fire made that the road was completely barricaded, and escape in that direction made impracticable. Turning to the left, he drove his excited team into the woods, and by making a wide detour and passing through a burning patch one hundred feet wide he reached a clearing. The horses and wagon were badly burned, the former so seriously that there is little hope of saving them. Mr. Smith was also dangerously injured.

PUBLISHING THE LAWS.—The Morris-town Jerseyman says—"No provision having been made by the last Legislature for the publication of the Laws in any of the newspapers of the State, persons desirous of being informed of the laws under which they live, or interested in any of the enactments of the Legislature, must wait a few months for their appearance in pamphlet form and then fee or sponge upon some lawyer for a sight at them, or pay the Secretary of State for a certified copy. It is a pleasing thought, and one which will no doubt be very satisfactory to the victim, that the deprivation of the people of all knowledge of the laws they are required to obey and may be punished for disobeying, is done in the interest of economy."

JERSEY CITY SEANALIZED A NEW.—The Rev. J. S. Glenmanning, who failed to be acquitted by the Presbytery of Jersey City of the serious charges preferred against him several months ago, preached in his church last Sunday. By so doing he has provoked severe censure, having defied the order of Presbytery and raised an issue which cannot be ignored. The Jersey City Journal says: "That such a proceeding is a scandal to religion we need scarcely say. For a clergyman, who is under charges of the gravest character, impugning his purity, his veracity and his personal honor, and who has not only failed to receive an acquittal from the tribunal of his brethren, to which he appealed, but was left under a verdict of severe condemnation by a clergyman, so circumstanced, to thrust himself into the pulpit of a Christian church and assume to instruct other people in the duties and obligations of a citizen, is a dishonorable and unwarrantable outrage in the Christian community and a scandal on religion."

BLUE AND GRAY.—Phil. Kearny Post No. 2, G. A. R., at a recent meeting adopted among others of a similar tenor, the following resolution in regard to the coming Centennial of American Independence: Resolved, In order that the celebration at Philadelphia in 1876 may be national, not sectional, thinking our efforts in this regard may be beneficial, we hereby cordially invite to come up to that holy spot, all surviving soldiers who were of the gray, and who with us on many hard fought fields, now to their success, now to ours, helped equally to elevate the national valor.

WEST ORANGE.—A new hotel to be called the Llewellyn Park Hotel, has been built by P. R. Hall, of East Orange, on Valley street, near the junction of Washington street. It will be conducted by Mr. James Weaver. It is located where it cannot fail to be well patronized.

When the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad tunnel is completed its tracks will be elevated above the streets of Jersey City.

Mary Groff, age 11, died in Paterson on Sunday, from the effects of over-exercising in jumping rope.

—Benjamin Franklin said, "It is hard for empty bags to stand upright." This great truth is robbed of its sadness when we know that there is no necessity for a bag or any thing else to stand up when it would look better lying down.

—A Western editor appeals to his delinquent subscribers by saying: "This week we have taken in potatoes and pickles on subscription. Now, if you will bring in some vinegar for the pickles and some wood to roast the potatoes, we can live till antiques get big enough to dig."

—When are stockings like dead men? When they are men-dead; or, perhaps, when they are all in holes; or, when they are in toe-holes; or, when they are past healing; or, when they are no longer on their last legs.

—A Texas woman has learned to use the lasso so deftly that she can catch the door and hold the hat off the lightning-red peddler while he is unfastening the gate.
